

We're WOMEN

The Michigan Voice is one year old this month! After publishing for five years as "The Flint Voice" (1977-1982), the Voice went statewide on April 1 last year, becoming Michigan's first statewide alternative newspaper.

To celebrate our first birthday we'd like to give you a present. If you are not now a subscriber to the Michigan Voice, just fill out the form below, send it to us, and we'll send the next two issues of the Voice to your home free of charge. If you already subscribe, we'll send the Voice to a friend or relative of yours. There is no obligation to subscribe.

Of course, if you want to subscribe (or renew early), we'll add two free issues to your subscription.

YES! Please send me (or my friend) the next two issues of the Michigan Voice free of charge.
